SUMMARY

I am a dynamic and committed professional developer with master's degree in Computer Science assessed by Danish Agency for Science and Higher Education. I have more than three years of experience in the domains of health, union, guilds, e-commerce using Back-end and Front-end technologies. I have also taught computer courses in National Institute of Information Technology (NIIT). Personally, I am very quick to think, take action, make decisions and solve problems and willing to improve my skills and learn new technologies. I can quickly adopt myself to the working place and scope and enjoy working individually as well as together with the team.
